

Evaluation Rubric: Revolution WebQuest!

	Minimally Meeting	Meeting	Fully Meeting
Basic information  CM3: I can acquire information	Some of the following information is included, and may be accurate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Name, date, location</li> <li>- Labeled map showing the country and major cities</li> </ul>	The following information is included, and is accurate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Name, date, location</li> <li>- Labeled map showing the country and major cities</li> </ul>	The following information is included, and is accurate: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Name, date, location</li> <li>- Labeled map showing the country and major cities, with added details about where events took place</li> </ul>
Questions and Key information  CM3: I can acquire, interpret and present information	All questions are answered with some accurate information, although more details could be provided. Answers show some evidence of research, but do not summarize the information well and contain some irrelevant details.	All questions are answered with accurate and adequate information. Answers reflect thorough research, summarize important details and are free from irrelevant information.	All questions are answered with accurate and adequate information. Answers reflect thorough research, summarize important details and are free from irrelevant information. Answers demonstrate critical thought and analysis.
Opinion: "Was the revolution successful?"  Critical thinking	States opinion on whether revolution was worth it or not. Attempts to explain (not clear) how they came up with their answer, and justifications are weakly linked to facts or evidence obtained through research.	States opinion on whether revolution was worth it or not. Explains how they came up with their answer (criteria, thought process) and justifies opinion with facts and evidence obtained through research.	States opinion on whether revolution was worth it or not. Offers insight and clear critical thinking and analysis to explain how they made the decision. Clearly justifies opinion with facts and evidence obtained through research.
Product  CM5: I can share and present what I have learned  Creative thinking	Summarizes information and covers most of the required information and elements.  The product shows minimal creative effort. Information is not particularly organized and is sometimes not clearly understandable.	Summarizes information well, and covers all required information and elements.  The product shows some creativity. Information is presented in an organized and easily understandable way.	Does an excellent job summarizing information, and thoroughly covers all required information and elements.  The product shows creativity and includes visuals/media that enhance the information. Information is presented in an organized, appealing, and easily understandable way.
Sources PAR1	Has included links to only one or two sources.	Has included links to three different sources.	Has included links to three or more different sources.